

Bus Rams Into Truck; 3 Dead At Kenosha, Wis.

KENOSHA, Wis.—(AP)—A Greyhound bus rammed into the rear of a semi-trailer truck last night on double-laned highway 41, bringing death to three of its 37 passengers. Eight more were hospitalized with injuries.

Kenosha County Sheriff Leonard J. Jensen reported the truck driver said the accident occurred as he pulled back onto the highway after parking on the road when he became drowsy. He said he did not see the approaching bus as he pulled out into the traffic lane. The truck driver, Carl H. Jackson, 47, of Martin's Ferry, Ohio, was held by Kenosha authorities. He was slightly hurt.

Two of the dead were taken from the wrecked bus. The third died at Kenosha hospital. Two were identified from papers in their purses as Milwaukee women. Susan J. Duebig, about 70, and Mrs. Elsie Blankenheim. The third remained unidentified.

The right side of the Chicago-Milwaukee bus hit the left end of the truck. The bus veered off into the parkway dividing the twin double lanes without overturning. The truck, loaded with beer, went out of control and skidded down an embankment.

All available ambulances from Kenosha and Racine were sent to the scene—about eight miles northwest of here near the intersection of the highways 41 and 43. Police said 1,500 persons also swarmed to the wreck. Squad cars also were used to remove the passengers to hospitals. All but the eight were released after treatment.

The bus passengers included nine elderly Milwaukeeans who were returning from the United Spanish-American war veterans meeting at Grand Rapids, Mich.

The driver of the Greyhound was Harvar Doede, 34, Milwaukee, who was not seriously hurt.

Price Control Gaps Spell Disaster, Congress Told

WHO TOLD THAT JOKE?—Outgoing Chairman of Wage Stabilization Board, George W. Taylor, enjoys a chat with President Truman during a farewell visit in Washington, D. C. He was accompanied by Nathan P. Feinsinger who replaces Taylor as Board Chairman, and Fred Bullen, who succeeds Feinsinger as Deputy Chairman. Taylor will return to post as Professor of Industry at the University of Pennsylvania. Cities Urged To Band Together For Attack On Crime And Graft

By G. MILTON KELLY
WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Senate crime investigating committee called on cities to band together today to band together in a war on organized crime and grafting public officials.

In a final report to the Senate on its sensational 15-months-long inquiry, the committee told of "captive communities" held in bondage by the twin evils.

Vice In Washington

The committee goes out of existence at midnight tonight. But it strongly urged that Congress carry on the crusade and that with federal help at only at the start a privately-financed national crime coordinating council be created to keep "the searchlight of public vigilance turned upon crime and corruption."

The committee aimed stinging thrusts at Florida's Governor Fuller Warren and, by indirection, at William O'Dwyer, ambassador to Mexico and former mayor of New York.

The report also pictured Washington, the nation's capital, as a possible "pivotal point for gambling operation of considerable size." There is evidence, too, the committee said, "of widespread traffic in narcotic drugs" in the District of Columbia.

Plane Climbs To 14½ Miles

EL SEGUNDO, Calif. — (AP)—A Navy rocket-powered airplane has shattered all altitude records, climbing to what aviation experts unofficially believe was 77,674 feet (more than 14½ miles). It leveled off at 1,300 miles an hour.

Bridgeman's plane was dropped from the bomb bay of a superfortress at 35,000 feet and immediately cut in the four powerful rocket tubes to curve upward in front of the bomber.

At 63,000 feet, Bridgeman's blood would have boiled had the rocket's cabin not been pressurized. He wore a special new high altitude flying suit with a "fish-bowl" helmet for protection in case the pressurization failed.

Bridgeman could have seen the vast curve of the earth had he had time to look, but he worked tensely in the cramped little cabin, scanning the wide range of his instrument panel.

Marquette Boys Die In Accident West Of Seney

MANISTIQUE—Two Marquette youths were killed and a Menominee man was injured in an automobile accident about midnight last night on M-28, 13 miles west of Seney.

The dead are Richard Moberg, 17, believed to have died instantly from a broken neck, and John Patrick Hayes, 16, who died at 5:45 o'clock this morning in the Munising hospital.

Franklin Fernstrom, 25, of 2034 10th avenue, Menominee, suffered a broken left leg and is a patient in the Munising hospital.

Moberg is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Moberg, Route One, Marquette, and Hayes parents are Mr. and Mrs. John C. Hayes, 754 Champion street.

The three youths were returning to Marquette from a camping trip when the accident occurred, with Moberg driving. The driver is believed by state police to have fallen asleep at the wheel, causing the car to crash into a bridge culvert at Marsh Creek.

Hayes was in the front seat with Moberg and Fernstrom, owner of the car, was asleep in the back seat.

Manistique state police reported the crash occurred between 11 and 12 p. m. last night.

Russians Rent Palatial Home

SAN FRANCISCO — (AP)—The Russian delegation will live in a millionaire's life in palatial 1,600,000 suburban estate during the Japanese peace treaty conference.

The Reds rented it yesterday—for as long as three weeks.

That lifted eyebrows. The conference opens Tuesday. The American plan is to end it Saturday. The Russians are reported bent on a protracted and controversial session.

Whatever the duration, the Russians will live in the grand manner on the 12-acre estate while all other delegations are looking out hotel windows.

The estate, Uplands, has mammoth colonnades, descending terraces, lily ponds, interior walls of marble and imported chestnut woodwork, and a 250,000 Tudor gothic library.

Mrs. Romiee Jacks, the owner, will stay with a friend. But she will leave all personal belongings for the Russian's use, including a gold dining set and a silver service.

Admits Embezzling

DETROIT—(AP)—Clyde Ranney, 31, accused of embezzling $6,300 while a junior cashier in the Wayne county clerk's office, will be sentenced Oct. 1. He pleaded guilty yesterday to embezzlement of more than $50.

Employment Racket Adds Billions To Defense Contracts

By BARNEY LIVINGSTONE
WASHINGTON — (AP) — Rep. Burdick (R-ND) asserted today a job-selling tie-up between government defense contractors and private employment agencies is costing the taxpayers and job seekers "billions."

To stop what he termed this "racket," Burdick said he will introduce legislation to make it illegal to require fees for employment on any government-financed project. He said he will act when the House reconvenes Sept. 12.

"Private employers are now reaping a harvest from men employed in war construction work, which could not be accomplished if there were not a complete understanding between the contractors and private employment agencies."

Since this is war construction work and the United States government maintains a federal employment agency, there would be no need to allow workers to be fleeced by private employment agencies.

A bill now awaiting President Truman's approval would prohibit private employment agencies from collecting fees for helping applicants obtain jobs in an executive agency of the government. The Civil Service commission, which supervises hiring, had long sought the measure.

Agency fees sometimes run up to $100 or more, Burdick said. He added that the customary charge appears to be 5 to 10 per cent of the annual salary paid on the particular job.

Burdick received from the Construction Men's Association, Inc., an estimate that it costs approximately $2,000 to process a worker for an overseas job. This expense and the cost of operating a personnel department by the contracting firm is reimbursable by the government.

At the same time, Burdick added, taxpayers' money is being used to support the U. S. Employment Bureau.

Sun Rises With Eclipse Saturday

NEW YORK—(AP)—Early risers tomorrow will see a partial eclipse of the sun.

The phenomena will be visible on all of the eastern seaboard and west of the Mississippi river to a line approximately between Galveston, Tex., and Bismarck, N. D.

The sun will rise here partly eclipsed at 5:21 a. m. (EST).

Economic Chief Says Inflation Threatens U. S.

Armament Program To Bring Pressure
By FRANCIS J. KELLY
WASHINGTON — (AP) — Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston told Congress today the nation faces costly and possibly disastrous consequences unless three restrictions on the price control program are ripped out of the law books.

He was the third of the nation's economic high command to go before the Senate Banking committee to argue for repeal of three amendments to the controls law which have been in effect only one month. Defense Mobilization Charles E. Wilson and Price Director Michael V. Di Salle testified yesterday.

Repeal Unlikely

Several members of the committee told Wilson and Di Salle immediate repeal is out of the question. They did not close the door on possible modification.

One of the amendments President Truman and his stabilization lieutenants want removed would let a seller pass on to the consumer all increases in costs between the start of the Korean war and last July 26.

A second would allow wholesalers and retailers the customary

Copper Range Co. Not Eligible For $60,676,638 Loan

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Copper Range Co. has been ruled ineligible for a $60,676,638 loan of the kind it asked, the Reconstruction Finance Corp. (RFC) said today.

The RFC did not further explain its refusal of the standard type business loan the company asked to develop its big copper deposits in Michigan.

But it said the company may be able to qualify for a government loan from funds made available especially by congressional act for expansion of defense production. An expansion of output of scarce copper is rated one of the top defense program needs.

RFC officials said the agency has relayed the application of Copper Range, which has offices in Boston and in Houghton, Mich., to the Defense Minerals Administration (DMA) to consider whether the company should be given a certificate of essentiality to qualify it for a defense loan.

Mining engineers, including some retained by the government, have reported that the concern's copper deposits in the area of White Pine, Mich., constitute the largest undeveloped copper reserve in North America.

Truman Names Copper Strike Inquiry Board

By HAROLD W. WARD
WASHINGTON — (AP) — Efforts to settle the wage dispute which has shut down most of the nation's copper industry continued today despite an initial step by President Truman to obtain a back-to-work order from the courts.

The president issued an executive order late last night to put the emergency machinery of the Taft-Hartley Labor Act in motion in a strike for the first time in 20 months.

The strike, which Mr. Truman earlier termed a serious threat to the national defense program because copper is a scarce and critical metal, started Monday.

The president named a three man board of inquiry which went to work at once, in an effort to report back on the facts by next Tuesday, as requested by the president. The board is not authorized to recommend a settlement.

The board arranged an organization session today. Hearings might be possible by tomorrow.

A court injunction, to force an end of the strike, may not be obtained before the board reports, under terms of the Taft-Hartley law. Once obtained, it runs for 80 days.

Queens Open Up Fair In Detroit

DETROIT — (AP) — Some 75,000 people, including Governor Williams and Hollywood film star Bob Hope are expected to pass through the open gates of Michigan's 102nd State Fair today.

The big fair starts its annual ten-day run at the Detroit fair grounds, complete with agricultural and industrial exhibits.

State beauty queens, Hope, Starlet Marilyn Maxwell, and numerous floats will ride out Woodward Avenue to the fair grounds this morning officially open the huge exhibition.

Countless Michigan 4-H clubs and other organizations have entered a record number of livestock and home arts displays in this year's spectacle.

Fair General Manager James D. Friel said the 102nd would be the "best and biggest fair" in Michigan's history.

Fair officials have arranged for trains to take elderly and tired not-so-elderly patrons around the grounds.

The fair runs through Sept. 9.

Permanent Breakup In Korea Armistice Talks Not Likely

By DON HUTH
TOKYO — (AP) — An Allied spokesman said today "there is no indication that there will be a permanent breakdown" in truce talks to end the Korean war.

The spokesman made the statement amid a welter of new Communist charges that United Nations forces violated the Kaesong neutral zone in Korea.

Three Complaints

The U. N. command began an immediate investigation of the new complaints. There were three of them. All previous charges have been denied.

At Munsan, advance headquarters in Korea of U. N. truce negotiators, Major James MacMaster told newsmen there was no sign of a final breakdown in the talks.

The Allied spokesman amplified his statement only by referring to the announced U. N. willingness to resume talks whenever the Reds are ready. Communists broke them off eight days ago.

Both Sides Cautious

Other sources observed that neither side wants to assume responsibility for renewing full scale warfare.

While the Reds have not answered Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's offer to resume negotiations, they maintained official contact between truce delegations by the mere act of filing new protests.

North Korean Gen. Nam Il, chief Communist negotiator, protested to Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, head of the U. N. delegation, that an Allied plane dropped a flare over Kaesong Wednesday morning.

Nam Il called it an "unbridled, unrepentant, provocative act." He demanded that "the culprits be severely punished." The Red general told Joy "the record  proves that you are the reckless and unscrupulous breaker of agreements."

A Red liaison officer who delivered the note to an Allied liaison officer lodged verbal protests that U. N. infantrymen twice violated the neutral zone.

MacMaster said the U. S. Fifth Air Force and Eighth Army promptly began investigating the charges.

Volunteers Save Old Ft. Mackinac Barracks As Roof Catches Fire

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich. — (AP)—A pre-dawn fire threatened prized, old Fort Mackinac today. Two hundred volunteers, including island vacationists, brought the blaze under control after an hour's fight, however.

The fire, which broke out about 3 a. m., was confined to the roof of the old company barracks. Damage was limited.

Six residents of the barracks, including the family of William Kulsea of the Lansing staff of Booth Newspapers, Inc., were routed from the building.

Kulsea, accompanied by his wife and daughter, has been on the island covering the recent Democratic meetings and the current session of the Michigan Municipal league.

Also forced to evacuate were Mrs. Margaret Schulte, curator of the Fort Mackinac museum, and two state troopers assigned to the island for the summer.

Carl Nordberg, superintendent of the Mackinac Island State Park, was overcome while leading the fight against the blaze.

The famed old Fort, nearly 100 years old, is one of Michigan's most cherished relics. Hundreds of thousands of tourists know of it.

Built in 1858, the Fort has not been used as a military installation since about 1895.

Noisy thunderstorms, with high winds and heavy rains, raked most of Michigan overnight.

Trees were felled, power and communication lines knocked down, basements and streets flooded, and a rash of fires caused by the storms.

In Detroit, police arrested a woman and three men on burglary charges, when notified by persons awakened by thunder that they had heard the sound of breaking glass. One of those arrested, Ramond Smolinski, 18, was shot in the thigh as he fled a Highland Park gun shop.

Three houses were hit at Lansing, and two barns were set afire and burned by lightning in Shiawassee and Ionia counties.

At Muskegon some industrial plants were forced to close when lightning burned out transformers and power cables.

Associated Press wires to the Upper Peninsula were knocked out for a time as Houghton got the heaviest rainfall of any point in the state. A total of 2.28 inches fell there in the 24 hours ending at 7 a. m.

Senate Bill Tacks Sales Tax Burden On Home Equipment

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Senate finance committee has shown a willingness to obtain more revenue from new and higher excise taxes than the $1,252,000,000 voted by the House.

The Senators, in announcing their first decisions on these sales levies late yesterday, tentatively agreed to add vacuum cleaners, washing machines and garbage disposal units to the list of appliances hit by a 10 per cent tax.

This will add an estimated $55,000,000 a year to the additional revenue from excises voted by the House as a part of its $7,200,000,000 tax hike bill.

Before starting to work on the sales levies, the Senators had sliced about $1,500,000,000 off the additional revenue voted by the House. Most of this came from paring down the tax hike plans approved by the House for corporations and individuals.

The finance committee continues its review of the excises today.

The Senators yesterday approved House decisions which would mean higher levies on automobiles, trucks, trailers, automotive parts and accessories, gasoline, liquor, beer, cigarettes, and a long list of electric, gas and oil appliances including dishwashers, clothes dryers, power lawnmowers and motion picture projectors.

All told, the committee approved excise tax boosts totalling about $1,045,000,000.

It also accepted one House provision knocking off $104,000,000 of annual revenue. This section repeals the present three and one-half per cent tax on electric energy.

Finder Tipped $50

MACKINAC ISLAND — (AP) — Oliver Gordon, a visitor from Coldwater, Mich., gladly tipped an island native $50 yesterday. The permanent island resident, Dennis Brodeur, found Gordon's lost wallet and turned it into the island's information bureau. It contained $1,703.

No Ergot Danger

WASHINGTON — (AP)—A food and drug administration official said today careful screening of cereal grains in American mills is an effective safeguard against the deadly fungus growth ergot.

Five Hurt In US-2 Crashes

Storm Extinguishes Warning Flares

Rain and wind that extinguished warning flares at repair projects on US-2 late last night were held responsible for two traffic accidents near Isabella in Delta County.

Five persons were injured when a car driven by Mrs. Olive Lewis, 41, Vanderbilt, Mich., plunged into a fill section on the highway and rammed into the concrete at the other end of the fill. The accident occurred at 4:30 a. m. eight-tenths of a mile east of Isabella.

Mrs. Lewis sustained a crushed chest and shock; Bonnie Losey, 24, Vanderbilt, lacerated knee, cut nose and bruises; James Longqure, 74, Vanderbilt, facial cuts when his head plunged through the windshield; Mrs. Longqure, 72, injured right ankle; and Carol Lewis, 10, bruises and shock.

All were taken to the Manistique hospital for treatment, state police of the Gladstone post reported.

The second accident occurred at 3:30 a. m. one-half mile west of Isabella, where a section of concrete had been removed in making repairs.

Harold Schumacher, 21, Remington Park, Ont., driving a Canadian automobile transport tractor and trailer, was traveling east when he drove through the unlighted barricade. The tractor and trailer jackknifed and plunged into the ditch when he applied the brakes. Schumacher was uninjured.

Hospital

Robert Vretzke has been released from St. Francis hospital in Escanaba, where he received medical treatment.

Bureau Meets In Iron River

Annual Conference To Be Oct. 18-19

One of the largest attendances in recent years is predicted by the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau for its annual meeting in Iron River Oct. 18-19.

The two-day session, marking the beginning of the 41st year of Peninsula-wide service for the Bureau, will open with an evening reception on Oct. 18, followed by morning, afternoon and evening meetings the following day.

An invitation to Governor G. Mennen Williams to be the principal speaker at the closing banquet Oct. 19 has been extended. Considerable enthusiasm for the 41st annual gathering has been aroused in Iron River under the general chairmanship of Howard H. Billings, Development Bureau vice-president. He reports that local committees have been appointed to make advance preparations and that a program of outstanding speakers and discussion of subjects vital to the Upper Peninsula is being arranged.

Hosts at the two-day meeting will be the Ottawa Tourist Bureau, Iron River Business Men's Association and the Iron River Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Fire Destroys Sullivan Camp

Lightning Storm Hits Delta County Area

Lightning, wind and rain lashed the Delta county area early today leaving a vacation camp destroyed by fire, communications disrupted, and causing two highway accidents.

Lightning struck the camp of Dr. M. L. Sullivan at 3:30 a. m. and destroyed it at a loss of several thousand dollars. The loss is covered by insurance. The camp was located on Billy Good's lake 12 miles northeast of Nahma Junction.

Wind and rain extinguished warning flares at barricades on US-2 where repair work is underway near Isabella and an automobile and a truck-trailer plunged into the soft fill. Five persons in the auto were hurt. The driver of the truck-trailer escaped injury.

Power Disrupted

The thunder and lightning was accompanied by a rainfall of .78 inch in Escanaba last night.

The Upper Michigan Power & Light company reported lightning out the service on its power lines for a half hour early today. Power service in some sections of Escanaba was disrupted.

Heavier rainfall was reported in other portions of the Upper Peninsula. The weather bureau recorded 2.16 inches at Marquette and Houghton 2.28 inches in a 24-hour period, and more than three inches in both places in a 48-hour period. Polar air sweeping down from Canada caused the precipitation.

Phone Circuits Out

A heat wave is sweeping the Central Midwest. Temperatures in the 90s were reported in Iowa and 100s in Kansas and Texas.

A large number of Michigan Bell telephone circuits were knocked out by lightning, wind and rain. Service had been resumed on most by 10 a. m. today and repair work was being completed.

Dr. William LeMire To Attend Meeting

W. A. LeMire, M.D., of Escanaba will serve as a member of the House of Delegates of the Michigan State Medical Society at their annual meeting beginning Sept. 23 in Grand Rapids, it was announced today by R. H. Baker, M.D., of Pontiac, Speaker of the House.

The meeting of the House of Delegates, policy making body of the state medical organization, will open the six day 86th Annual Session, which ends September 28.

The scientific sessions, held in the Pantlind Hotel and Civic Auditorium, will be highlighted by lectures given by 28 eminent medical men from throughout the United States.

Licenses Bureau Has New Plates

The automobile license bureau is now ready to distribute license plates for the following type vehicles: passenger, commercial truck, farm commercial and trailer. The plates will be on sale tomorrow from 9 a. m. until noon and from 1 p. m. until 5 p. m.

Operators of trucks and trailers are reminded to have their last year's weight receipts. Titles must be presented for passenger, commercial and farm commercial plates.

Circuits out of service after the storm included: Two to Trout Lake by damage two miles east of Isabella; six of six circuits to Marquette; three between Escanaba and Lansing, one of two to Sault Ste. Marie, two of five to Detroit, one of four Detroit to Iron Mountain, one of two Escanaba-Petoskey, four of five to Iron Mountain, and one of two between Escanaba and Cooks.

Lightning struck the Rene Verbrigghe home in St. Nicholas last night and damaged a water heater. The roof of a granary at the Andrew Belanger farm at Harris was damaged by fire yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Elmer King Sr. Dies In Milwaukee

Mrs. Elmer N. King, sr., 68, died late yesterday afternoon at her Milwaukee home. She had been ill for a number of years. Mrs. King and her husband were residents of Escanaba until 1926, at which time they moved to Milwaukee, where they have resided since then.

Besides her husband, she is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Joseph Kozlowski of West Allis, Wis., and Miss Mildred King, at home; two son Lance and Elmer N. Jr., both of West Allis; one sister, Mrs. Charles Lemke of 1222 North 16th street in Escanaba.

The body is being taken to the Anderson funeral home in Escanaba. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

U. P. Druggists Will Convene

Meet Sept. 10-11
At Blaney Park

Pharmacists from all parts of the Upper Peninsula will gather at Blaney Park on Sept. 10 and 11 for what promises to be the largest convention in the history of the Upper Peninsula Pharmaceutical association.

President of the U. P. Pharmaceutical association, L. W. Olson, of Escanaba will preside over the opening business session on Monday afternoon, and the concluding business session on Tuesday morning.

Topnotch speakers who will address the convention, will include C. D. Smith, who is manager of the Chicago branch of Park-Davis & Co., and C. R. Orchard, District Drug Sales Manager, McKesson & Robbins, Inc., Chicago, and A. C. Mercer, Owen-Illinois Glass Co. All are recognized as leaders in the drug industry, and are accomplished speakers.

The Upper Peninsula association is affiliated with the Michigan State Pharmaceutical association and officers of the State Association along with members of the Michigan State Board of Pharmacy, and a delegation of 25 to 30 from Detroit, Flint, Lansing, Grand Rapids and other lower Michigan cities will also be in attendance.

Chairman of the convention arrangements committee is C. R. Siddall of Manistique, who is also vice president of the association and is slated to become president for the ensuing year. President Olson and convention chairman Siddall and committees from Manistique, Munising, and Newberry predict that upwards of 200 persons will attend.

Kalamazoo Girl Gets $1,200 For 4-H Steer

EAST LANSING—A Kalamazoo farm girl realized nearly $1,200 here yesterday for her grand champion steer of the 4-H Club Fat Stock show.

The grand champion was a black Angus weighing 1,175 pounds entered by Rosemary Buckham, 15, of Kalamazoo. She previously entered the winning grand champion pen of fat lambs.

Spirited bidding at the Michigan State college livestock pavilion ran the price of the champion up to more than a dollar a pound. The Kroger company of Grand Rapids was top bidder at $1.02 a pound.

There are more 4-room and 5-room homes in the United States than any other sizes—44 per cent. Only 30 per cent have six or more rooms.

Grand Marais Woman Writes About Frisco

By LOUISE SENEAL

GRAND MARAIS, Mich.—We have been having a wonderful visit with my parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isadore Roberts, of Manteca, and my sister, Carolyn, of Oakland, and a brother, Arthur, and his wife and two children of Berkeley, Calif.

One day we motored to San Francisco from Oakland to visit Chinatown, the largest settlement of Oriental culture outside of Asia. Upon crossing the Oakland Bay bridge, we sighted Alcatraz, that formidable island fortress, the most famed of all national prisons, from which escape is nearly impossible. Alcatraz is isolated from land by miles of treacherous currents. We crossed Treasure Island, and then went on across the bridge into San Francisco. "The City," as it is called by Californians, natives.

Tourists Visit Chinatown

Chinatown surprised us; at the corner of California street, as we turned into Grant avenue, the beautiful architecture of the Orient became prominent in the buildings that towered over the narrow street. We parked our car a block from St. Mary's square, with its steel and granite statue of Sun Yat-Sen, father of the Chinese Republic. Standing opposite the square is old St. Mary's church, built in 1854, an exact copy of an earlier one in Spain. This is the gateway to the Chinese quarter, and for blocks in all directions stretch the narrow streets and alley-ways of Chinatown.

We wandered down the streets, crowded with Chinese and tourists gazing at the window displays of the work of skilled hand craftsmen. Many of the items on display in the meat or fish markets are of a nature foreign to our way of life and resemble items we never consider as having connection with food for a table. There were great varieties of shelled snails, live frogs, and, stranger still, odd shapes and sizes of fish-like forms that left us completely baffled as to their origin.

Good Things To Eat

The bakeshops offered morsels of a more appetizing appearance, but the beautiful cakes displayed, halved and labeled, dispelled an inclination I had to stave off starvation by such a purchase. Perhaps a roll of cake filled with a mixture of Black bean and centered by a brilliant yellow egg yolk is excellent food, but not to my taste.

We explored through many small incensed bazaars and came forth laden with small oriental souvenirs ranging from incense-burners to chop-sticks. Open booths crowded the sidewalks in many places and as evening fell it deepened the mysticism of the atmosphere. The Chinese writing on the street signs became more noticeable as the neons were lighted and the eaves of the pagoda-like buildings too were lighted.

It was on Grant avenue in Chinatown that the first flag was unfurled, the first building constructed, and the first white child born in San Francisco.

We dined at the Far East cafe, where the food, although of Oriental style and serving, had a decidedly American label. Dinner was served family-style in a room curtained off from a long hall, and the Chinese waiter with his spotless white coat spoke English with a combination of tongue difficult to understand. We enjoyed chicken rice soup, pork chow mein, sweet and sour spare ribs, pork fried rice, fried prawns, gai lan yuk (green vegetables with meat), white mushroom chow yuk, fortune cookies and tea. The fortune in my cookie said I shall achieve fortune in the autumn. (They neglected to designate which autumn.) The strangest thing about the meal to us was the absence of any form of bread, but everything tasted very flavorful. The dishes upon which the food was served were decorated in a variety of scenes and were of size and shape strange to us.

Visited "Melting Pot"

In the drugstore windows of Chinatown we saw dried seahorses and ginseng root, and in the grocery stores were displayed strange vegetables and varnished ducks (which are blown up with bellows before cooking). The Mandarin theatre, with its strange customs and music, sent forth a sound of odd sing-song opera into the shadows of the night. The shop windows were alight, featuring priceless jade, fine silks and souvenirs of carved ivory and teakwood. Chinatown was in a busy hour.

Before returning to Oakland we motored to International Settlement, first settlement on the Barbary Coast, and at present the melting pot of San Francisco. At night the city of San Francisco was bright and glittering with the

They Like it a Million!

Last week Buick set a proud record. The millionth Dynaflo Drive* was delivered to a happy owner.

That's a new peak in popularity for modern drives which take you from a standing start to any cruising speed desired with a smooth, unfaltering swoop of power.

"The biggest advance since the self-starter" is what the motorwise press called this Buick development back in 1948—and now a million owners can tell you how right that proved to be.

Here, they found, was a basically different way of delivering power.

It was the first drive to get completely away from any gears which function in a series of fixed stages—the first to apply supercharging principles that did new tricks with spinning oil.

And how folks loved it!

They loved the freedom from strain in traffic. And the new "sweetness" of ride which every passenger could enjoy.

They loved the command it gives them of every traffic situation—and the relaxation it contributes to a long day's drive.

They loved its extra safety in slippery going, and the improved control in mud and snow.

As they piled up experience, they loved the unexpected savings of rear tire wear and the reduced strain on all driving parts, from engine to differential.

And finally—they loved what it does for the value of a Buick, as reflected in the extra dollars that Dynaflo* adds to the resale price of a car.

Have you sampled this driving sensation?

There's no time like the present for discovering the thrills that more than a million Buick owners already know.

How Gambling Corrupts Shown By Louisiana Grand Jury Results

WHEN the Czech Communists trumped up an espionage charge against William Oatis, American newspaperman, and sentenced him to 10 years in prison on the phony charge, Americans were indignant—and rightly so.

But right here in our own country, newspapermen seeking to oust the sinister influence of gambling at Lake Charles, Louisiana, are indicted on charges of defaming gamblers!

The publishers, editors and reporter of the Lake Charles American Press led a fight for an investigation of gambling. A grand jury was called and the jury promptly slapped indictments against the newspapermen. The newsmen were charged with defaming three men who had pleaded guilty to gambling charges and who had been fined and given suspended sentences.

Congressmen have promised to "look into the situation" if the Louisiana officials do not act to clear up the apparent mess. It is a fine state of affairs when a public grand jury is so corrupted by gambling interests that it will not only close its eyes to the gambling violations but will actually indict as criminals the fearless people who fight for law and order.

At least three senators have indicated considerable interest in the Louisiana situation—Case of South Dakota, Kefauver of Tennessee and Moody of Michigan. Case and Moody are former newspapermen and

In Deals With Reds Anticipate The Worst

AMERICA'S foremost Russian experts are agreed that Moscow made a major miscalculation when it spurred North Korea to attack South Korea last year. They believe the Kremlin did not foresee the bold Western response to that invasion, nor did it anticipate the vast rearmament program to follow.

From the fact that the Communists agreed to talk truce with us in Korea, these experts now conclude that Russia is anxious to offset this mistake. They argue that Soviet leaders, at the very least, seek a breathing spell, an easing of tensions that may lull the West back to sleep.

By the same reasoning, they conclude that Russia is unlikely in the near future to take any aggressive step which might arouse the West anew, perhaps on a far bigger scale than Korea.

Thus they believe there will be no early attack upon Germany, Yugoslavia, or Iran, prime targets in the Russian strategy of conquest.

Yet there are disturbing signs that actual Soviet thinking may not be following this line. In Yugoslavia, especially, the situation is not promising. Marshall Tito recently declared that for the first time satellite armies ringing his country are superior in strength to his own stubborn force.

Since Russia itself is obviously responsible for the satellite build-up, it cannot be unaware of the changing balance of forces. A notable increase in Soviet-inspired incidents along Tito's boundaries is another straw in the wind. These affairs are manufactured to provide excuse for attack.

Furthermore, the material state of Tito's army is not good. It sorely needs new equipment. With more U. S. money in prospect, the handicap may be corrected. But right now it makes Yugoslavia, land of the heretic Communists, a tempting morsel to Stalin.

All these factors notwithstanding, Moscow should hesitate to initiate attack on Tito, if for the reason of America's Russian specialists is accurate. Because that assault would carry with it grave risk of embroiling Russia in World War III.

Yet some U. S. newsmen in Europe raise doubt that Russia sees it that way. They suggest that the Kremlin may be more impressed by our talk of Western unpreparedness for general war. Moscow may therefore conclude that the risk of war is NOT great, and that the satellites could with impunity jump on Tito.

If that really represents Politburo thinking, then the top Communists are less affected by the rearmament we have achieved than by the distance we still have to go.

In the welter of fact, rumor, misrepresentation and calculated falsehood which comes to the surface in Europe, how can one be sure what Stalin's conclusions are on this or any vital issue? Suffice it to say that if he did order an attack on the guess that the West wouldn't spring to Tito's aid, it would be an error dwarfing by a hundred times the mistake of Korean aggression.

We dare not assume our Washington experts are right and American reports from abroad are wrong. To be safe we must anticipate the worst. We must notify Russia in unmistakable language that an attack on Yugoslavia, however disguised as civil war or defensive retaliation, will be met by the full force of Western arms.

The Bells

By Gordon Martin

High above the college campus is the tower of the bells, and inspiring is the story that the campanile tells. It's a tribute to the men who, for their country, gave their lives, and in all its soaring majesty, their spirit now survives. And to those of us still living is the will to carry on, in the beauty and the splendor of the mighty carillon.

Does it tell us of the college days we treasure in the past, and of friendships born of common goals that make them ever fast? Does it tell us of the glory of the colors of the school, carried high and aloft and in the halls where knowledge is the rule? Does it tell us of man's inner soul that guides his skillful hand, in the making of an instrument so powerful and grand?

Yes, those bells can tell all this and more, and may they never cease, in their call to all the faithful who are ever seeking peace. May they give us needed courage and a clearer eye to see, and a true appreciation of a land so proud and free. Let them always sound their stirring song as darkness comes and goes, so that men may stop to listen and to find, at last, repose.

MARTIN

Merry-Go-Round

By MILLARD CALDWELL

ED. NOTE—While Drew Pearson is on a brief vacation, the Washington Merry-Go-Round is being written by several distinguished guest columnists, today's being by Millard Caldwell, federal civil defense administrator.)

WASHINGTON—While time is running out, the cracker-box strategists fumble civil defense.

Some of them know that air power at its best can stop only 30 out of 100 attacking enemy bombers. Yet they insist that more air power is the sole answer to protecting the home front.

Others blow hot and cold. One day they think the situation is so hopeless that civil defense could do no good. The next day, the world situation looks brighter, so civil defense is not needed.

Still others insist that retaliation is the answer. What we can do to the enemy blinds them to what the enemy can do to us. They forget the trigger for our retaliation will be a mass atomic attack on our own cities.

Then, another group, the ostrich thinkers, insist that no nation would dare attack this country, because nobody ever has, and besides we're too strong.

Some, bored with crisis after crisis, wake up now and say, "that atomic explosion in Russia wasn't really the bomb."

While the pseudo-strategists grope in a smog of truth, half-truth and fantasy, time is running out. We stand in danger of war.

Too many seem unable to grasp the fact that we can lose a war. Their stock answers are: If it takes production, we'll outproduce the enemy. If it takes atomic bombs, we'll build bigger and better atomic bombs. If they hit us, we'll hit 'em harder.

These prevalent American beliefs are ingrained, basic but, unfortunately, short of an adequate answer to the sharp question sired by reality. They were incomplete by three things—Red imperialism, the global bomber and the atomic bomb.

This trio has forced on Americans a whole new concept of war. Today or any day, America itself can become a battleground. Civilians are the first targets in this new kind of war. If the enemy first smashes the home front, the military may have little left to fight for and less to fight with.

The Kremlin knows that our American home front must be knocked out quickly, if it is to be knocked out at all. For this reason, the first attack must be a grand slam using all the modern terror weapons.

Those who doubt the likelihood of war on the home front should heed what representative Clarence Cannon, chairman of the House Appropriations committee, had to say on the floor April 9. He said: "If war comes—which God forbid—it will be fought in this country as well as abroad." General Vandenberg (speaking for the air force) said that "in spite of all our radar fences, our walls of shipping, our networks of communications and our clouds of interceptor planes, 70 per cent of the enemy planes carrying atomic bombs would get through. We might as well face that fact. Every center of production, every center of wealth and population and civilization would be devastated. We have only to look at the cities in Germany to see how the cities of America would look within one week after war started."

W. Stuart Symington, while chairman of NSRB, said "who can be a bigger fool than the fool who continues to fool himself, especially when his own existence is at stake." Those who will read the record must see where the 30 year pattern of Russian imperialism leads.

The retaliations have an empty answer. To devastate Russian cities would not restore our own.

Unrealistic thinking has sapped our strength and robbed us of precious time. No American city is prepared to cope with an enemy attack. We must use our time wisely and well. There is no time for fatalism or fantasy.

Take My Word For It . . . Frank Colby Jr.

WHAT'S THE ORIGIN?

"A little bird told me," we say when passing on a particularly juicy bit of back-fence gossip. This is an almost universal adage which is based on the popular idea that this ubiquitous little wanderer spies out all strange and secret things from a vantage point in the upper air, and reveals them to us as can understand.

The Greek and Roman soothsayers studied the flight of birds and made their prophecies from the knowledge thus revealed to them. And how was this knowledge attained? There were various recipes:

Pliny recommended a mixture of snake's and bird's blood. Melampus was a little more exciting; he recommended that one have his ears licked by a dragon's tongue (few of us, of course, have the opportunity of making the acquaintance of a dragon).

Nevertheless, the "art" of interpreting the habits of the featured ones was believed to have been acquired by many. According to the Koran, King Solomon was advised by a lapwing of all the doings of the Queen of Sheba, and Mahomet himself was instructed by a pigeon which whispered in his ear in the presence of a multitude.

Talking birds appear in the folklore of every country, and proverbial allusions to the spying habits of birds abound in literature.

"Davy Jones' locker" is a nautical term for the depths of the ocean, that is, the graves of those who perish at sea. Davy Jones is the sailor's devil. The name is a corruption of Duppy Jonah, a fanciful name formed from the word duppy, "a malevolent spirit of the dead," plus Jonah, "one who brings bad luck or misfortune."

"Look At Me—Both Hands!"

Dulles Sold Treaty To Japanese, Then Won Over Our Pacific Allies

By PETER EDSON

NEA Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON—(NEA)—After completing the first round of talks on Japanese peace treaty proposals, Ambassador John Foster Dulles went to Japan in January, 1951.

In New York during the 1950 meeting of the United Nations General Assembly, Dulles sounded out the 15 principal powers allied against Japan. He had also approached the new governments of Indonesia and Ceylon. Now he wanted to get the views of the Japanese.

He made clear he was not going to negotiate with the Japanese. He was merely going to exchange views. Also, he would inform the Japanese that if they were willing and desirous, they could have an agreement with the United States to keep American troops in Japan until a UN or some other collective security pact could be arranged.

This was a touchy point. Japanese Premier Shigeru Yoshida was known to favor the idea. But how would the Japanese political parties line up? The left wing Socialists were thought to be neutralist, though not necessarily anti-American. If anybody in Japan was going to raise objections, it was necessary to know what they were, to be able to meet them.

In the background were two important factors. One was the Japanese constitution, which forbade rearmament. The other was Sen. Vandenberg's resolution on security agreements, which called for "mutual" self-help.

The United States could not therefore make any guarantees of Japanese security because the Japs could make no mutual guarantees in return.

On Feb. 2, Dulles made a talk before the American-Japan society in Tokyo, explaining all these points and emphasizing that the United States had a generous treaty in mind. The reaction in Japan was good.

Dulles believed the time was ripe to expand his original seven points, which covered only one page of paper, into a longer memo laying out treaty provisions. A five-page statement was therefore given to the Japanese on Feb. 15.

The Japs were delighted. There was nothing in this memo about reparations. They professed to be upset over loss of the Ryukus. This, however, was the only time they raised the point. It was a mere gesture of protest.

It had been hoped Premier Yoshida would present this American treaty plan to the Japanese Diet, and would consult with all Japanese political parties to gain their support. For some reason he did not.

The best explanation is that the treaty outline was so good Yoshida wanted to take full credit for it himself and thereby strengthen his political hold on the government. Support for this theory is found in the announcement that Yoshida himself is coming to San Francisco to sign the treaty.

From Japan, Dulles went to the Philippine Islands, Australia and New Zealand. His purpose was to report directly on treaty proposals to the heads of these governments. In Manila, Dulles had two tough days. The hard going began immediately after breakfast in a conference with President Quirino. It went on through long meetings, luncheons and state dinners, into the nights. Dulles talked to delegations of Filipino Congressmen and businessmen.

They all gave him ovations. Individually they agreed with him as he explained the American ideal for a just peace. It was to keep Japan strong enough to resist communism. They could all see the logic of that. But then they all came to one point. They had to have reparations. They never said how much, but implied they wanted plenty.

It was largely an emotional reaction. As Dulles felt this reaction and saw the war damage still evident in Manila, he came to the conclusion that some formula recognizing the principle of reparations was needed.

What evolved was a plan for the payment of reparations through the processing by Japan of raw materials furnished by the other governments. For instance, Japan would weave foreign cotton into cloth. This would avoid monetary drain on the Japanese economy.

In Australia and New Zealand, objections centered on lack of restrictions on Japanese rearmament and Japanese trade. In Canberra, Dulles talked to Prime Minister Gordon Menzies, Foreign Minister Percy Spender, and the cabinet. All the while Herbert Evatt, leader of the Labor party opposition, drummed up criticism of the Dulles proposals.

In Sydney, Dulles made a speech which helped a lot. He told the Australians that if they had a treaty which restricted rearmament of Japan, someone would have to provide the armed forces and pay the bills for enforcing it. The United States was not willing to take on this responsibility. The Australian rapidly concluded they weren't either.

After three days of arguing they made a trade. Australia gave in to American proposals for Japanese security in exchange for a mutual security pact with New Zealand and the United States. The two countries had long wanted such a Pacific pact. First drafts were prepared on the spot, and Dulles brought them home for study.

New Zealand's Foreign Minister Frederick Widdowson Dodge had sat in on the Australian negotiations. He now persuaded Dulles to go to New Zealand for more talks. Here Walter Nash, leader of the opposition, joined in full bi-partisan New Zealand support of the American proposals.

With this backing, Dulles was ready to come home and start final drafting of the treaty.

COSTS AND EFFECTS—Government, like everything else, is costing more these days. The climb will continue so long as the public agrees to the need—sometimes bureaucratically inspired—for additional public services by government.

The effect of this increasing cost is so cushioned that many taxpayers are unaware their pocketbooks are being lifted. The extraction of tax dollars at all but local levels has become so expert it resembles a visit to the dentist—you hardly know they're missing until they are gone.

Principal reason is the so-called "hidden tax" to be found at the state and federal level. Taxpayers have become accustomed to the need, paying state sales tax on every purchase, federal luxury tax on items purchasers do not classify as luxuries, gas tax with every gallon (1½ cents to the state, 1½ cents to the federal government with a proposal to raise the ante by another ½ cent), withholding tax, intangibles tax, weight tax, amusement tax, inheritance tax, old age pension tax, utilities tax, excise tax, transportation tax, well, there must be some I've overlooked.

Net result of this daily taxpaying is a deadening of the tax sensibilities of the individual. He never really knows at year's end how much he has paid in federal and state taxes.

GETTING THE BILL—At the local level, however, the owner of real estate and personal property taxed for county, city and school purposes knows how much he pays.

It is there on his tax bill in black and white in all its horrible clarity. And his first inclination is to yell his head off for being over-taxed.

Even a little inquiry, however, will convince him that his local tax bill is the smallest that he pays every year, while his contributions through state and federal taxes even double and triple the amount he pays to local government.

WHERE IT COMES FROM—Local government has, in its reaction against high taxes, put on the brakes to the point where it is no longer self-supporting.

Through many years, and particularly since the early 1930's and the revolution in social functions of government, local government has become poorer—and weaker.

Federal and state programs and standards and regulations affecting local government have made local government more and more dependent upon state and federal aid.

Today local government could scarcely exist without kick-backs from the tax-collecting techniques of the state and federal government.

AND HOW MUCH—It is interesting to note that of all the funds received by Delta county for county revenue functions in 1950—more than half, or 56.69 per cent came from state aid.

State aid for Delta county roads was 22.49 per cent of the county's total revenue; and for welfare and medical assistance it was 34.20 per cent.

Local taxes accounted for 26.38 per cent of the county's total revenue.

Back in 1946, just five years ago, local taxes carried 34.86 per cent of the total county revenue burden. So local government financing at the local level continues to decline, and hands reach out to Lansing and Washington for additional aid.

TAKING A STAND—School districts in Michigan have a similar financing experience.

Escanaba school district is an example. In 1930-31 the district raised $106,000 in local operating taxes for schools—in 1950-51 it had dropped to $89,000.

But state and federal aid advanced from $123,000 in 1930-31 to $423,000 in 1950-51.

New federal aid to education is proposed and opposed, with debate centering primarily on the control of local schools by federal agencies through the control of school funds.

In conclusion: The funds expended are all from the people as taxpayers, but the method of tax collection and fund control may—in the not too distant future—make local government an ineffective and unnecessary formality.

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

Escanaba—Miss Marion L. Strahl, Escanaba Daily Press photographer-engraver, is leaving this morning for Los Angeles, Calif., where she will enter the Art Center School for a year's course in advanced photography. Miss Strahl, who received her degree from the University of Wisconsin, has been a member of the Daily Press staff since 1935.

Gladstone—Clarence Royer overcome the handicap of a blown jib to win the Kinzie trophy with his Ghost in the second running of the event Sunday afternoon. Second to the speedy Ghost was the Lindberg-Gabrielson Sea Hag.

Manistique—Michigan state parks, including the Palms-Book and Indian Lake state parks, will remain open throughout the month of September and perhaps later if ideal weather conditions prevail, it has been announced. Up to Monday night, attendance at the Big Spring totaled 67,800 for the season, at least 10,000 more than for a similar period last year.

20 YEARS AGO

Escanaba—Miss Helen Snyder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Emery Snyder, 410 South Eighth street, was notified Monday by the faculty board committee of Lawrence college, Appleton, Wis., that she had been awarded a hundred dollar scholarship, on the basis of her scholastic ratings and general activities.

Gladstone—Gladstone Rotarians were entertained with a delightful musical program at their weekly luncheon—meeting yesterday noon at Legion hall. A group of five vocal selections by George Michaelson, St. Louis, talented singer, was well received as were several violin solos by Louis Empson and a number of piano selections by Freeman Empson.

A tenth boy was born to a Missouri couple. That's one way to raise a rough house.

Vaxey Gordon Has Shady Past

Always Made His Living Illegally

BY ROBERT C. RUARK

NEW YORK—If you seek some sort of classic in loathsomeness, a term moral lecture on just how wicked mankind may become, old Vaxey Gordon is the subject of the sermon. I can think of nobody who has so thoroughly tagged all the bases of depravity, with no real excuse that society shoved him.

Gordon, born Wechsler, has been bagged by the state for such delightful whimsies as grand larceny, black marketeering, and income-tax violation. He was a key figure of the bootleg era, which means that he had to be parcel to murder and kindred violence, and his final infraction of decorum was a fast pass at the dope business. It will be his last infraction of anything, because he is now liable to life imprisonment under the Baumes law as a fourth offender.

Has Goods on Him

In some ways it is not too hard to be charitably inclined to the bootlegger, the hoodlum, even the occasional murderer, if he seems to have been nudged into his fate by circumstance. But from a standpoint of moral leprosy it is impossible to understand the thinking of a citizen who graduates from preying of his country in the black markets of a war to running narcotics as a last grab at illegitimacy. And old Waxer had a neat pound of heroin on him when they lowered the boom.

We are an enlightened people, in some respects, and so we do not consistently practice the more barbarous tenets of punishment to fit crime. We do not cut off the hand of a thief, as do some Arabs, nor do we administer the death penalty for more subtle crimes against the commonwealth. We do not legally administer torture as a just pay-off for some crimes.

Torture for Peddlers

It almost seems a pity, in the cases of the Waxey Gordons, that

Dime Store Clerk Finds $250 In Yarn

LAKELAND, Fla.—(AP)—A Dime store sales girl who found $250 in a ball of yarn got a day off for a reward.

Opal Holmes, 17, noticed the crochet yarn out of place on a shelf. When she picked it up she saw money in the core. Also in the core was a receipt made out to Mrs. Bessie M. Morton of Tampa.

Mrs. Morton explained she put the money in the yarn for safe keeping—then decided she didn't need the yarn, returned it, and got a refund.

Store officials said Mrs. Morton didn't offer a reward, so they gave the girl a day off.

Helicopter Picks Up Victim of Car Wreck

TUSKEGEE, Ala.—(AP)—When Mr. and Mrs. Lee C. Page of Houston, Tex., on their way to South Carolina, had a crackup with their house trailer near here, an air force helicopter was hovering overhead.

The pilot, on a reconnaissance flight as part of maneuvers staged at Southern Pines, N. C., spotted the wreck, landed and flew Mrs. Page to a Tuskegee hospital. He then took off without identifying himself.

Mrs. Page was reported in serious condition from internal injuries, cuts and bruises. Her husband was not seriously hurt.

Bark River

Pvt. Neil Billings, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Billings, Bark River, Route 2, left today for Camp Stoneman, Calif., after spending an 11 day furlough at his home.

Munising

Mrs. Emma Cramer of Munising, left for Neenah, Wis., for an extended visit with relatives.

there is not something more horrible than death or imprisonment to repay a man for a complete life of conscious criminality, committed with thoughtful malice. The man who popularizes narcotics addiction is much too good for hanging—something along the order of the old-fashioned rack, or perhaps the Chinese water torture, is more his just repayment.

Yet, I understand that much emphasis on marijuana smoking is being ordered by organized, big-business crime today, merely as a logical springboard to the sale of more profitable drugs, such as heroin. The dope traffic has nearly assumed the proportions of illegal hooch in the old days of prohibition, as a money-maker for the mobs.

The classic ugliness of the Gordon story is that old Waxey, having run out of prohibition as a gimmick, having no war at hand to use as an adjunct to illegality, finally turns to the popularization of dope as an easy way to turn the dirty buck. It is the last resort of the completely criminal mind, the mind that was never willing to work at anything remotely decent.

Fort Wilkins Picked For Conservation Commission Session

LANESING—(AP)—The historic buildings at Fort Wilkins state park, Copper Harbor, have been selected as the site of the Sept. 7 meeting of the state conservation commission.

Commission members said this was the first time the Fort buildings have been put to any use except sightseeing since they were restored and probably since the fort was discontinued as a military base in 1870.

Fort Wilkins, at the northernmost point of the Michigan mainland, was established in 1844 as a protection for ore prospectors from hostile Indians.

Forest Fire Losses Down

Protection Program Helps In Michigan

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Effective forest protection work paid dividends in Michigan during 1950. A summary of the state's forest fire report shows almost a 50 percent reduction in number of fires and 30 percent reduction in acreage burned over the previous year.

A total of 988 fires burned 6,274 acres of Michigan timberland in 1950. All of the state's 19,703,000 acres of forestland are under organized protection. Careless smokers, who started 385, and debris burners, who started 290, were the worst causes of woods fires in 1950.

Only .03 percent of Michigan's forest area was burned during the year. Only four other states—Montana, Wisconsin, Vermont and Washington—equalled or bettered this mark.

This information is contained in a report distributed by American Forest Products Industries—national sponsor of the Keep Green program underway in 30 states.

Commenting on Michigan's 1950 forest fire control record, J. C. McClellan, chief forester for AFPI stressed the need for greater cooperation by the public in preventing woods fires. Since most woods fires are caused by local residents, the Keep Green program provides a most effective vehicle for grass roots education in forest fire prevention.

"Man's most effective tool in preventing forest fires is education," Chief Forester McClellan declared. "An alert public, aware of its collective responsibility for preventing fire in the woods can keep America's forest green, growing and productive."

The AFPI report, based on U. S. Forest Service figures, emphasizes the continuing need for full public support of federal and state fire control agencies. It points out that continued cooperation between industry, the public agencies and woodland owners in preventing fire is an integral part of the national defense program.

Adam Franklin Dies Yesterday

Osier Resident Takes Life With Rifle

Adam S. Franklin, 55, of Osier, died at 3:30 p. m. Thursday of a self-inflicted bullet wound in the head the day following his return from Veterans' Hospital, Iron Mountain, where he was receiving treatment for the past month.

A veteran of World War I, Franklin served in France with the 31st Infantry. He had been in ill-health for several years.

The death was investigated by Dr. O. S. Hult, Gladstone, county coroner, and state police, who said Franklin had taken his own life. The body was found at the rear of the Franklin residence on the Rock-Osier road with a bullet wound in the head and a deer rifle nearby.

Authorities said they were told Franklin left the house with the rifle and that a shot was heard a few minutes later. The body was found a short distance from the back door of the house.

Born Jan. 15, 1896, at Sturgeon Bay, Franklin had lived in the Osier community for the past 45 years, where he was employed as a woodsman. For four years he had been employed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

He was a member of the American Legion post at Rapid River. Surviving are his wife, the former Viola Juneau, and the following daughters, Mrs. Roy Nelson, Cornell; Mrs. Glen Hoy, Turanick; and Mary Lou, Rapid River. One sister, Nellie, who resides in Kentucky, and two brothers, Charles of Sault Ste. Marie and Dewey of Rapid River, also survive.

The body is at the Alto funeral home where friends may call beginning Sunday. Funeral services will be held Monday morning and burial will be in Trenary cemetery.

Acheson Ouster Voted By VFW

NEW YORK — (AP) — Senator Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis) has suggested that his Communist-coddling accusations against Secretary of State Dean Acheson and ambassador-at-large Philip C. Jessup be submitted to a trial by jury.

McCarthy, who made the proposition in addressing the 52nd national encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars yesterday, said he'd resign from the senate if such a trial disproved his charges.

On the other hand, McCarthy said, Acheson, Jessup and "that whole motley crowd" should resign if a jury upheld his accusations.

McCarthy, who was applauded as he attacked Acheson and other administration officials, acknowledged that the prospect of such a trial was remote.

He addressed the convention shortly after the delegates had demanded the ouster of Acheson and other "policy-making" officials of his department.

The resolution urged removal of all those in the state department "whose loyalty to American ideals is questionable."

Garden Man Denies Using Bad Language

Arraigned before Justice A. T. Solberg yesterday on a charge of using obscene language in the presence of women and minor children, Fred LaLonde, Garden, pleaded not guilty and trial in the case was set for Monday, Sept. 10.

Bond was set at $500 to assure his appearance and he was remanded to the county jail until bail was furnished.

The complaint made by a Garden resident alleges LaLonde used immoral, indecent and obscene language in alluding to LaLonde's divorced wife in the presence of two women and a number of children.

Arrest in the case was made by Michigan State Police of the Manistique post.

Teachers Honored At Dinner Program

Escanaba city school teachers were honored last evening at a dinner at the House of Ludington and new teachers were welcomed to the community as a part of the teachers' conference program held this week.

Erwin Wolff of the Junior High school faculty was toastmaster, and Clarence Zerbel, Junior High school principal, delivered invocation.

The teachers and members of the Escanaba board of education were guests at the dinner sponsored by thirteen Escanaba business firms with the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce cooperating. Mrs. N. L. Lindquist, president of the board of education, and Dr. Roy B. Johnson, president of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, welcomed the new teachers to Escanaba.

John A. Lemmer, superintendent of schools, presented the new teachers who will make Escanaba their home in the coming school year.

British Jet Sets New Speed Mark In Ocean Crossing

ALDERGROVE AIR FIELD, BELFAST, North Ireland — (AP) — The air ministry said a British twin-jet bomber completed a transatlantic hop from Ireland to Newfoundland today in a record-smashing four hours and 19 minutes.

The flight beat the previous tie of four hours and 37 minutes, but it lost the race westward with the sun, which makes the swing in three and a half hours at a rate of 600 miles an hour.

The jet bomber's non-stop flight of 2,072.79 miles ended in Newfoundland at 11:45 a. m. EST.

The sleek Canberra jet with its crew of three had taken off at 12:23 p. m. Greenwich time (7:23 a. m., EST).

Hudson and Packard Pay Raises Approved

DETROIT — (AP) — Pay increases of four cents an hour have been approved by the wage stabilization board here for 18,000 hourly rated employees of the Hudson Motor Car Co. and the Packard Motor Co.

An improvement factor raise, was approved here yesterday by the Detroit regional WBS office for some 10,000 Hudson employees. The national WBS in Washington okayed the increase for some 7,500 Packard workers.

M. S. Ryder, regional WBS director, said the Hudson increase was retroactive to Aug. 14, and the Packard increase to Aug. 27.

Lopez Dismayed But Hopeful

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Dismayed, but still hopeful, Manager Al Lopez looks on his Cleveland Indians to pull out of their slump soon and for the New York Yankees to weaken in the stretch.

"Our slump is coming at a bad time, but it's something you had to expect," Lopez said after their club's 6-2 loss to Philadelphia yesterday. "We did go real good for a while."

"I'm looking for those Yanks to go into some kind of a rut. They've not been in a real rut all year. The White Sox were in one, so were the Red Sox, and now it's us."

"It's going to be a close race all the way through."

Lopez never has come out with a prediction his Indians would win the pennant, and it will be a lot later in the season than now if he ever counts them out.

Seven Left At Home

But the freshman pilot had hoped fervently the Tribe could build up a five-game lead on first place during the current 18-game home stand.

Yesterday's loss of the Philadelphia Athletics' series dropped Cleveland a half game behind New York, and only seven games are left in the lakefront stadium before September's 17-game tour of the east and west. The Indians' record on the road to date is so-so 33-27.

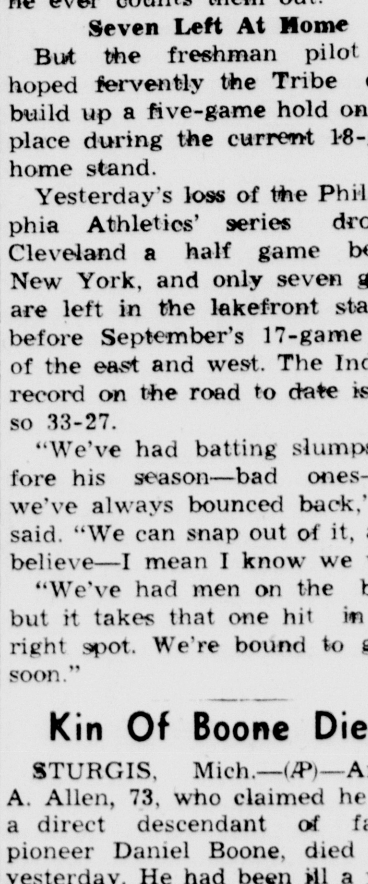

"We've had batting slumps before his season—bad ones—and we've always bounced back," Al said. "We can snap out of it, and I believe—I mean I know we will."

"We've had men on the bases, but it takes that one hit in the right spot. We're bound to get it soon."

Treaty Envoys Land In Frisco

By GENE KRAMER

SAN FRANCISCO, U. S. — (AP) — A 3-man Russian delegation saw America from pulpar car windows today as envoys from four dozen nations headed for San Francisco and next week's Japanese peace treaty conference.

New Zealand and Australian delegates were already here. They are to sign a mutual defense pact with the U. S. at the presidio of San Francisco, historic army post, tomorrow.

The Russians, headed by Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, are to arrive tomorrow. They will be housed in a palatial mansion in suburban Hillsborough. Most delegations are arriving by plane and staying in downtown hotels.

Secretary of State Dean Acheson and the United States delegation are to arrive at 5:55 p. m. (7:55 p. m., EST) today aboard a chartered United liner.

The 40-man Japanese delegation will land in a chartered Pan-American clipper Sunday, six years after their country surrendered to General MacArthur on Tokyo bay.

Premier Foreign Minister Shigeru Yoshida heads the delegation that expects to return Japan to full-fledged membership in the family of nations.

Harlem Dope Ring Smashed By Police

NEW YORK — (AP) — Police have smashed a $1,000,000-a-year Harlem wholesale dope ring supplying customers from coast to coast, they announced today.

In an 11-hour roundup yesterday and last night, narcotics squad detectives arrested seven men who have been under surveillance for the past 10 weeks.

Narcotics dealers from Los Angeles, Chicago, Detroit and Boston flew here regularly to buy from the seven men, police said.

Alger Derides Gov. Williams

MASON, Mich. — (AP) — Secretary of State Fred M. Alger, jr., last night derided Governor Williams' claim that Democrats would win every election for the next 100 years.

Alger, a candidate for the Republican nomination as governor, spoke to a meeting of the town club, a Republican group.

The governor made the prediction at a Mackinac Island meeting of Democrats.

Alger said he must have been lulled "by $3 lunches, $4 dinners and soft music" to "the smouldering resentment by party leaders against his own 'hand picked' state chairman."

He referred to Neil Staebler of Ann Arbor.

"I wonder," Alger said, "if he actually believes our system of government can continue to sink to new unprecedented lows of immortality X X X."

The people, Alger said, will not stand much longer "the scandals, the corruption and the immorality that we read about in each new edition of the press."

Lake Carriers School To Open On January 14

A new school for engineering officers of Lake Carriers' Ass'n. member fleets opens in Cleveland on Monday, Jan. 14, 1952. This course, called "Modern Marine Engineering" is three weeks' in length and replaces the two-week course in advanced engineering offered the past five winters, also taught by Frank V. Smith.

The new course has been specially developed at the request of the Fleet Engineers' Committee to provide training for engineering officers on the new equipment going aboard the new ships or incorporated in re-powering jobs already completed or in prospect. The material included in the course will be on turbine-gear units, Skinner marine uniflow pumps, and other installations not previously dealt with. Also included will be a great deal of material on the standard equipment on the older ships which, of course, will continue to represent the majority of the carriers.

Nahma Schools To Open Tuesday

Nahma Township schools will open at 9:30 a. m. Tuesday after the teachers hold an 8:30 meeting. Buses will run the same routes as last year but will operate a half-hour later.

The hot-lunch program will not begin until September 10, making it necessary for students to carry their own lunches the first week. Fees will remain the same. The faculty also remains unchanged.

Holes In Defense

Johnston, in a prepared statement, labeled all three "big, gaping holes in our economic defenses."

"If the act stands," he declared, "prices will have to go up—unnecessarily. Wages will have to go up—unnecessarily. The costs of rearming will go up—unnecessarily. The dollar will sink in value—unnecessarily."

These consequences, he said, spell trouble all down the line.

"It means less food and clothing and poorer shelter—if it can be found—for great numbers of Americans on low fixed incomes."

"For hospitals, churches, charitable institutions of all kinds, it means retrenchment and reduction of service to those in need."

"It means a whole new wage level. It means a new farm par level. It means a higher rent level. It means a bigger government deficit."

"It means less defense."

"And less defense means national danger."

Big Wallop Certain

The stabilization chief said he couldn't say just what day of what month the nation will begin to feel heavy inflationary pressures from the rearmament program.

But he asked: "Can anyone doubt that these pressures will hit us with a wallop when we are

With the House adjourned until Sept. 12, the administration was concentrating on the Senate committee in its drive to get the law changed. But Chairman Maybank (D-SC) announced that no more hearings would be held until Sept. 10. And Congress is driving for final adjournment around the first of October.

Loss of the great Alexandria library in Egypt was one of the greatest misfortunes that ever has befallen the march of civilization.

GREAT SCOTT

"How They Wear"

Is more than just a fancy phrase. It's a tried and true trade mark for fine children's footwear. The crest of competent craftsmen for quarter of a century. There are thousands of parents all over America who have worn "Great Scott" shoes when they themselves were little. That's how they learned to like them then and that's why they like to buy them now for their own children because they KNOW how dependable they are through actual experience.

The church's quarterly meeting will be held on Saturday evening and all day Sunday, with Rev. L. A. Robart, district superintendent of Manistique, the guest speaker.

Briefly Told

Guest Soloist—Mrs. Wallace Maskey, of Bethel Lutheran church, Menominee, will be guest soloist at morning services in the First Lutheran church here Sunday morning. Mrs. Maskey will sing "Grant Me Dear Lord" by Sticks and "I Walk Today Where Jesus Walked" by O'Hara.

Eastern Stars—Minnevasca Chapter No. 96, Order of the Eastern Star, will resume meetings following a summer layoff on Tuesday evening at 8 at the chapter hall. Mrs. Bert Nisonen, Worthy Matron, asks that all officers be present. Mrs. Walter Tang and Mrs. B. M. Skellenger are in charge of the lunch.

All Saints Guild—The first meeting of the fall season is to be held by All Saints Guild at the parish hall next Wednesday at 2:30. In charge is a committee formed by the Mmes. John VanDamme, L. J. Weingartner, Leo Waeghe, William McCormick and Paul Zimmel.

Obituary

MRS. JOHN ZUBALL

Funeral services for Mrs. John Zuball, 63, N. 15th street, Gladstone, are to be conducted Saturday morning at All Saints' Catholic church at 8:45 with burial in Fernwood cemetery.

The body is reposing at the Skradski funeral home where the Rosary is to be recited this evening at 8.

City Briefs

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Micks, Chicago, are vacationing at the Micks cottage at Haymeadow.

Mrs. Zadia Steele is arriving tonight from Racine to spend the weekend visiting with the Frank Klug family.

CONQUEST BLUEPRINT

The Tanaka Memorial is the Japanese army blueprint for conquest, attributed to Baron Gichi Tanaka, Japanese statesman and general, who died in 1926.

Yacht Club Winds Up Season With Picnic Sunday, Race Monday

The Gladstone Yacht club winds up its season this weekend with the annual picnic on Sunday afternoon and a novel boat race on the Labor Day afternoon.

The picnic is to be at Maywood as has been the custom for years while the boat race Monday will be a 60-lap closed course event staged in the Yacht Harbor.

All boats will be removed to prevent damage to craft other than those participating in the race.

Three classes of motors will be used: Class A, Class B-1 and Class B-2. Class A are 7½ HP jobs, Class B-2 are the standard 10's while Class B-1 are the racing 10's.

Class A boats and motors will be given a 5-lap start over the B-2's and the B-2's will get a 10 lap advantage over the B-1's. The plan is to start the race with four A motors; at five laps the standard B's get into the fray and at the end of 15 laps for the first boat the fast jobs start in.

In other words for the last 45 laps of the race there will be 12 boats in the running, barring accidents or mechanical failures.

Twelve boats skimming about the boat harbor should provide double the equivalent of a jam session at the stock car races.

No admission will be charged to witness the attraction, but the hat will be passed during the afternoon. In addition to the 50-lap event there will be a race for children. Thirteen boats have been entered in the event.

In Class A there are John Schreeder, Charles Waeghe, Leonard Louis, Russ DeRoock and Gene Roy. In B-2 are Paul DuRoy, Roger Anderson, Ronald Matrin and John DeMeister Jr. In the real fast class, which may be a handicap on the small course will be Irving DeRoock, Wimpy Mineau, Fritz Pepin and Dwight Ameson.

Three pit stops will be allowed each contestant for repairs or refueling.

Pine, Spruce Cones Wanted

Conservation Dept't To Collect Seed

Red pine and white spruce cones are wanted by the conservation department to replenish the supply of seed at the three state nurseries.

District foresters in the northern lower and upper peninsulas will buy all the red pine cones they can get. They want a minimum of 3,000 bushels of red pine cones and 400 bushels of white spruce cones. Only ripe cones will be purchased. Prices to be paid are $5 a bushel for red and $6 a bushel for the spruce. Payment will be made in cash.

The department cautions cone pickers to "Ask the Landowner First" for permission for picking from private land.

Since only ripe, sound cones will be bought, the department suggests contacting the local district forester before starting to pick.

This is the best seed year since 1948 except for white spruce cones.

Upper peninsula district foresters are: Leroy Stevens, Baraga; George Divine, Crystal Falls; H. Peterson, Kingsford; Arne Metson, Gwinn; Clarence Limpert, Escanaba; Ernest Hall, Shingleton; Carl Makel, Manistique; Bernard McTiver, Newberry; James Halbach, Newberry; and Wesley Lehmann, Sault Ste. Marie.

Those in the northern lower peninsula are: James Finley, Boyne City; A. K. Braidwood, Onaway; W. H. Horsell, Gaylord; Merl Prichard, Onaway; Victor Horvath, Alpena; Fred Haskin, Fife Lake; Shirley Gowing, Grayling; Clayton Schooley, Roscommon; Robert Leeson, Baldwin; Anthony Sullivan, Houghton Lake; and Allen Philbrick, West Branch.

LUCKY FOR THEM

The common cobra carries enough venom in its glands for 15 lethal doses, yet about 40 per cent of its victims recover, due to the fact that the strike often fails to make perfect contact.

North Carolina's spruce pine area supplies about 65 per cent of all the feldspar mined in the United States.

AT LAST! a home permanent that's specially created to "take" on young, fine-textured hair!

Richard Hudnut CHILDREN'S HOME PERMANENT

So safe, so gentle, so easy to give... now even a child can have curly hair. Kit includes a new, milder, gentler Special Creme Waving Lotion and Special Liquid Neutralizer plus the Special Children's Home Permanent Conditioner—to make baby-fine, limp, young hair "take" a wave better, easier, faster. Leaves hair soft, lustrous, manageable—like naturally curly hair. Use any plastic curlers... but we especially recommend the new Richard Hudnut Whirl-A-Wave curlers for ease, speed, and smoother waves. Like all famous Richard Hudnut Hair Preparations, the Children's Home Permanent has been laboratory and salon tested and proven safe, even for toddlers' hair.
